CRISIS GONE. THE

We Are Entering on a New Career-Securities of All Kinds Assuming Their Former Tone.

WALL STREET, THURSDAY, Oct. 2-6 P. M. Much opinion has been exchanged as to the probable effect of the enlargement of bank credits under the recent system of loan certificates, adopted at the beginning of the present crisis, and still in force among the various clearing houses of the country. New York set the example, and it has been followed in almost every city in the United States. The payment of currency has been stopped, and to a large extent these bank credits in their passage through the clearing houses, old and new, have taken the place of the legal reserve. In other words, a certain degree of clasticity has been communicated to the currency by the ingenious device of the banks, which was not before possessed, and they have thus been enabled to tide over one of the most threatening conditions that has yet presented itself in the history of national banking. The peculiarity of the English system is that it represents but one reserve, subject to various influences, and subservant to public necessity. Here, on the other hand, we possess the advantage of decentralization and unification—the power to act as an individual or to act compactly when required, as the representative of the best interests of the public. Hence in THE PRESENT CRISIS the banks have created "a law unto themselves," whereby, without disturbing their liabilities to the public, they have provided on their own credit for an outflow of eurrency that has afforded practical relief. If there has been inflation it is confined to their own number. It does not reach the community, because "loan certificates" are nowhere current, and only represent in part the amount withdrawn and hoarded by distrustful depositors. They merely fill the gap created in the available circulating strength of the respective institutions by such withdrawals. At the outset, it would seem that there has been inflation; but if the thought be duly measured in its length and breadth it will be found to amount only to an extension of credit represented by the assets of the banks, not affecting their depositors in any unfavorable manner and only a legitimate result of an occasion which forced the monetary agencies of the country to extend the widest facilities possible to their vast body of customers. If there were actual inflation of currency greenbacks would not be at a premium of 2 or 3 per cent. Ergo, there has been simply an extension of paper credit between the banks themselves-a mere substitution which has relieved an equivalent amount of circulating medium. By common consent this has become policy, and the policy is not unrecognized by the law. The end justified

THE TONE OF THE MARKET to-day was greatly improved, the information re-ceived from various quarters of the Union indicat-and without noticeable change in value. ing a return of confidence, less difficulty in the distribution of money, the receipt of larger means for the movements of crops, greater ability on the part of banks to meet the demands of customers, the breaking up of hoards and altogether a better feeling. This has been reflected in the speculative and business centres of the metropolis. Credit is a power which may grow but cannot be constructed. Credit in business is like loyalty in government, while distrust is the basis of panic. We are regain. ing this loyalty to one another. We are recovering from foolish fears, and in the end it will be found that we have been frightened only by a bubble. THE COURSE OF PRICES in the stock market was somewhat irregular, although much firmness was shown and not a little of buoyancy, especially towards the close, when an advance was observable, varying from 1/2 to 3 per cent, as compared with earlier prices. The leading features were Western Union, Lake Shore, New York Central, Pacific Mail, Northwest common, and Union Pacific. Western Union declined from 62 to 60, recovered to 62, receded to 60% and finally rose to 63%. Lake Shore fell from 76 to 68%, and advanced to 71% at the close. New York Central rose from 89 to 91, leaving off at the latter quotations. Pacific Mail sold at 32 a 31 ½ before the Board, but sales were afterwards made at 34, the last price having been 34%. North West Common sold at 40% a 39% a 41%; Union Pacific at 18% a 18% a 19%; Ohio and Mis-Bissippi at 27% a 27 a 27%; Northwest preferred at 65 a 67 : Rock Island at 88 a 89 a 87 % a 89 : St. Paul. common, at 31% a 32 a 31% a 32%; do. do., preferred, at 54 a 56 a 55; Wabash at 43% a 42% a 42%; Panama at 98 a 95 a 95%; Harlem at 110 a 109%; Fort Wayne at 88 a 86%; Delaware, Lackawanna and Western at 87 a 86 1/4 a 87 1/4; New Jersey Central at 90% a 90%, and C. C. and I. C. at 22 a 22%. It is noteworthy that a larger number of outside orders offered themselves to-day than heretolore, and that a considerable sum is still held, subject to the orders of brokers, against a thoroughly settled condition of the market. A suggestive feature of the day's transactions was an apparent English demand for New York Central, but before the example is followed it will be well to ascertain whether the same is not artificial and made for the occasion. This is an hour when it is fairly presumable every effort will be made to bull stocks unnaturally in order to help out sufferers, but intrinsic values are beginning to be looked at now, and from time to time we propose to help the public in their diagnosis. THE GOLD MARKET improvement, and confidence would seem to be aimost entirely restored; and now that the utter causelessness of the late panic is the better appreciated, business men begin to wonder how it was possible for a few speculators to bring it about. Business shows a gratifying increase with the lapse of every twenty-lour hours; and now that the trouble is nearly over, the markets may be expected to resume their wonted appearance of activity and buoyancy. On 'Change to-day the general aspect of affairs was not much changed, though a more confident, cheerful feeling generally obtained, Flour was less active, but prices remained steady. Wheat was firmer at the opening, but closed rather tame at yesterday's prices. Corn was quiet and not essentially changed in values. Oats were only in light request, but firm. Pork remained dull and nominal. Lard was quiet at unchanged figures. Cotton was in moderate demand at about yesterday's figures. Petroleum was duil: little or nothing was offering for early delivery. Naval stores were in good demand at slightly improved prices, both for spirits and rosin. Grocerles were dull, but prices not quotably changed. Freight room was less urgently sought after, but the market was steady. Whiskey, in the face of large receipts, was decidedly higher. but prices remained steady. Wheat was firmer at sought after, but the market was steady. Whiskey, in the face of large receipts, was decidedly higher.

Corrox.—The scarcity of spot cotton continued to be a drawback to a good business, there being a fair demand from both spinners and exporters while the offerings were very light. Prices were without quotable change. For forward delivery business was moderate but the market for the most part was steady at yesterday's release.
